It has been the practice to give effect to the confirmation of Sub Asst Surgeons appointed on probation, from the date of their entry into Service instead of from the date of expiry of the probationary period. In these cases of one

Does the Confirmation from the date of appointment confer any extra privilege which cannot be got by Confirmation from the date of expiry of the probationary period, which as in this case, the leave before & after Confirmation does not differ?

The promotion of a Sub Asst Surgeon from one class to the next higher becomes due to him from an earlier date if he is confirmed with effect from the date of appointment.

6. As regards counting Service for leave and pension, there is little or no difference between an officer on probation for a substantive office and one actually holding a substantive appointment. It is therefore immaterial in this respect if an officer is confirmed from the date of appointment or from the date of ending of the period of probation. But the probationary period does not count as service for promotion to higher grades unless specifically ordered to that effect. The period of probation is as a rule followed by confirmation, ~~and is not allowed to run concurrently with promotion. Calculated from that date~~ differs from that of Certain other offices e.g. Probationary & Assistant Con^r very materially. While the latter, it is a period of training for his duties, in the Case of the Sub Asst Surgeon, it is prescribed as an administrative Convenience, to test of his practical Capacity and decide the question of his permanent entertainment. It is therefore hard that the period spent in actual work should not Count for promotion

There is no general order issued by Govt re: Confirmation of Asst Surgeons appointed on probation. The order referred to by the 2d Councilor is perhaps the one relating to messrs K.R. Krishnaswamiengar & J. V. Karke who have since been confirmed with effect from the dates of expiry of their Probationary period. vide Med. file 7-12 Sls 17, 20 & 21 B. Septr 13.

13. In the case of Mr J. Norohna who was entertained as a temporary Sub Asst Surgeon (old designation) it was directed in G.O No: 7067-8 med 22-08-6 & 27.1.09 that the period of approved Service for earning increments should be counted from the date of Confirmation. But- in the case of Sub Asst Surgeons (Hospl Asst) the practice has long been to confirm them from the dates of their appointment -
